Cambridge Named to “101 Best and Brightest Companies to Work For” List for Third Consecutive Year

At Cambridge Consulting Group, we recognize that each member of our team is critical to the success of our enterprise. Maintaining this outlook has helped us build an organization where employees are empowered to better themselves and the company through training, continued education, challenging work assignments and an emphasis on work/life balance. We are proud to announce that Cambridge Consulting Group has been named one of “Metro Detroit’s 101 Best and Brightest Companies to Work For” by the Michigan Business and Professional Association and the National Association for Business Resources, for the third straight year.

“This award reflects the caliber of individuals who have chosen to bring their talents, expertise and passion to Cambridge,” says Al Papa, Co-Chairman and CEO of Cambridge Consulting Group. “Providing a great work environment for our employees ensures that Cambridge will have a strong team in place to serve the needs of our clients for years to come.”

The “101 Best and Brightest Companies to Work For” award measures qualities such as:

- Effective communication
- Community initiatives
- Diversity
- Employee education and development
- Employee engagement and commitment
- Recognition and retention
- Recruitment and selection
- Work-life balance

CAMBRIDGE CONSULTING GROUP

With word-of-mouth being the primary means of recruitment, this benefits company (which specializes in employee and executive plans as well as estate planning), is able to share in its success. As Executive Vice President Stacey O’Keefe explains, working at Cambridge includes “unbelievable teamwork” and an atmosphere where it’s “work hard, play hard” throughout the year. It’s also one where success is celebrated. “Everyone is aware of what the goals are,” says O’Keefe. “On a quarterly basis, we discuss those and on a monthly basis we get together for a breakfast or a lunch. It really is a great place to work.”
